The Rise Of The Digital World

- The Internet isn't a fad – it's a fundamental shift in the way we communicate
- Over 294 billion emails per day
  - 90% are spam... but 20 million real emails per minute!
-  has over 1.3 billion users
-  serves over 4 billion videos per day (more video in a month than the 3 major networks produced since 1950!)
- eReaders have surpassed traditional book sales

The Value of Financial Planning

- What is the value of advice-givers in an increasingly technology-driven world?
- Planners are experts when finding solutions on the internet is like finding a needle in a haystack...
  - ...But will improvements in search, sharing, and social media change this?
  - What if the answers to your questions came up instantly in an internet search?
- What is the role of a planner if useful, relevant information actually becomes easily accessible?

Blue Ocean Strategy For Planning

What Is The Blue Ocean Strategy (BOS) for the delivery of Financial Planning?

- Focus on what matters, eliminate everything else, and create something new
  - The simultaneous pursuit of differentiation and low cost
- What creates the most work? What has the most cost? What can we leave behind?
- What value or experience is financial planning not delivering, that it could?

Blue Ocean Strategy For Planning

- Can video help to replace physical meetings?
  - How much more efficient would your firm be without travel?

Blue Ocean Strategy For Planning

What Is The Blue Ocean Strategy (BOS) for the delivery of Financial Planning?

- Can online software tools help to replace the physical financial plan document?
  - Could an online platform be a live studio for the client's financial plan, eliminating plan documents and drafts?

Exploring Possibilities

The screenshot displays the Pinnacle Advisory Group, Inc. software interface. At the top, the company logo and name are visible. Below the header, there are two circular gauges labeled 'Risk Score' and 'Performance Score'. The 'Risk Score' gauge shows a value of 1.15, and the 'Performance Score' gauge shows a value of 1.00. Below these gauges, there are two buttons: 'View Details' and 'View Details'. The main area of the interface is a table with columns for 'Item', 'Description', 'Value', and 'Total'. The table lists various financial items such as 'Retirement - Equity Exposure', 'Retirement - Fixed Income', 'Retirement - Cash', 'Retirement - Bonds', and 'Retirement - Real Estate'. The 'Value' column shows values in thousands of dollars, and the 'Total' column shows the sum of these values. At the bottom of the interface, there are two buttons: 'View Details' and 'View Details'. The footer of the slide contains the text '© 2015 Michael Kitces | kitces.com' and 'Handouts/Materials: kitces.com/FPACO'.

Item	Description	Value	Total
Retirement - Equity Exposure		$ 1,200,000	$ 1,200,000
Retirement - Fixed Income		$ 2,000,000	$ 2,000,000
Retirement - Cash		$ 1,000,000	$ 1,000,000
Retirement - Bonds		$ 1,000,000	$ 1,000,000
Retirement - Real Estate		$ 1,000,000	$ 1,000,000
Total Retirement Assets			$ 6,200,000

Financial Planning In A Flat World

- The internet & the growth of bandwidth are leveling the playing field
- Geographical divisions are becoming increasingly irrelevant

How is a financial planning firm structured where hiring and staffing doesn't need to be connected via geography?

Financial Planning In A Flat World

Planning Firms of the Future as Technology breaks down Geography

- What (& who) needs to be physically located at the firm?
  - Virtual staff vs. employees
  - The trend towards outsourcing has begun
  - Central hub for planners around the city/state/country/world(?)
- Planners will choose business relationships based on:
  - Technology offering and platform
  - Flexibility to match their needs
  - Support service
  - NOT geography!

Financial Planning In A Flat World

Financial Planning as the World goes Flat Part 2 – The Client Relationship

- Eventually, there will be a disconnect between geography and planner selection!
- What if clients work with the best firm that fits their needs... period? And not the best firm in their area?
  - What are you "the best" at? What's your niche?
  - Can you survive if competing with others outside your area?
  - Can you grow more if not constrained to nearby prospects?
- Can you build a client relationship with people who you won't meet face to face?

Trust And/Via The Internet

Trust And/Via The Internet

- Can we trust at a distance?
  - Can a true trust-based relationship be created via the internet?

- What is it that makes us trustworthy?
  - It's all about credibility
    - Integrity (do you walk your talk?)
    - Intent (what's your motive/agenda?)
    - Capabilities (are you able to be relevant?)
    - Results (what's your track record for value/results?)

Trust And/Via The Internet

Relationship trust – it's all about consistent behavior

- Talk Straight
- Demonstrate Respect
- Create Transparency
- Right Wrongs
- Show Loyalty
- Deliver Results
- Get Better
- Confront Reality
- Clarify Expectations
- Practice Accountability
- Listen First
- Keep Commitments
- Extend Trust

Trust And/Via The Internet

- Walter Cronkite
- “The Most Trusted Man In America”
  - It wasn't because he met everyone in America in person!
- What is it that makes us trust?
  - Credibility and relationship-building lead to trust
  - Trust builds from ongoing demonstration of credibility and relationship-building - develop a reputation for being trustworthy!

© 2015 Michael Kitces | kitces.com

Trust And/Via The Internet

- Can we trust at a distance? Yes!
  - Sometimes tragically so...
- Nothing in the trust-building process inherently requires a face-to-face connection
- Remember when we didn't trust buying anything on the internet?
  - Until companies built a trustworthy reputation with us!
  - Could we build the same relationship with our clients?
  - Will robo-advisors beat us to it?

Handouts/Materials: kitces.com/FPACO

Trust And/Via The Internet

- Are Robo-Advisors the end point?
  - Not necessarily...
  - Does a computer make us change our behavior?
- The advisor of the future is not human nor robot, but cyborg?
  - The technology-augmented "bionic" human advisor

Trust And/Via The Internet

- The ongoing disruptive force of technology
  - First “stock brokering” died with discount/online brokers
    - So we became fund pickers
  - Then active mutual fund picking died as reporting tools made it clearer how bad most are
    - So we became asset allocators
  - Now “robo-advisors” are commoditizing asset allocation
    - So we become... financial planners & wealth managers
  - Technology doesn't "kill" advisors, but it does force our ongoing evolution up the value-add chain

A New Kind Of Client Experience

- “The Experience Economy” - People will pay more for an experience than just a product.

Vs...

- The parts may be the same on the inside, but the results are customized for every customer/client

What would financial planning be like
if clients paid
5x the money
& invested 10x the time
for a
“financial planning experience”?
