2

Trump Accounts

- Built on the Traditional IRA chassis
- Max contribution of $5k / year
 - Non-deductible
 - Likely to require a separate Form 8606 for the life of the account to keep track of basis
- Contributions only allowed in years child is under 18
 - Child must be alive

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

3

Trump Accounts

- Until age 18, investments generally limited to:
 - US mutual fund or ETF that:
 - Tracks the return of a qualified index (essentially a US equity index of some kind)
 - Does not use leverage
 - Has an annual fee of 0.1% or less

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

4

Trump Accounts

- Distributions generally not allowed prior to the year the child reaches age 18
 - What if child begins college prior to age 18?
- Will follow pro-rata rule, but will not be combined with other Traditional IRAs
- Treated like an IRA at age 18
 - Can it be converted?
 - Can any acceptable IRA investment be used?

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

5

Trump Accounts

- Effective one year after enactment
 - First Trump accounts able to be opened July 5, 2026
- Employers will be able to contribute up to $2,500 to the Trump acct of employee's dependents and exclude from income
- Pilot program
 - Treasury-provided $1,000 contributions to Trump accounts of individuals born 2025 - 2028

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

6

Trump Accounts

- Death of a beneficiary prior to age 18 follows rules similar to HSA accounts
 - Account ceases to be a Trump account immediately
 - Taxable to Trump account beneficiary if beneficiary of account is Trump account beneficiary's estate
 - Taxable to other beneficiary if anyone else is named beneficiary
- No ability to change beneficiaries in life or after death

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

7

Trump Accounts

- FAFSA impact
 - Unclear at this time
 - Most experts believe that without a specific exemption, Trump accounts should/will be treated as the student's property
 - Jeff's Bet: The administration will find a way to use the "IRA chassis" element of the Trump accounts to treat them as IRAs, and exclude them from being counted as an asset for FAFSA purposes

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

8

Roth IRA (Child-Owned)

- Max contribution $7,000/year
 - Requires compensation
 - Most children unable to make any contribution to Roth IRA until teenage years
 - Few minors earn enough to make a full Roth IRA contribution
- Distributions
 - Unlikely to be qualified when child is of college age
 - Contributions can be distributed tax- and penalty-free at any time
 - Earnings generally subject to income tax but penalty-free (for higher education expenses)

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

9

Roth IRA (Child-Owned)

- FAFSA Impact
 - Not counted as an asset
 - Taxable and tax-free distributions counted as income
 - Wait until junior year to distribute?

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

10

Roth IRA (Parent-Owned)

- Max contribution $7,000/year
 - Requires compensation
 - Income limits may prevent high-income parents from making contributions directly to a Roth IRA
- Conversions
 - Existing pre-tax retirement accounts can be converted to Roth at any time (tax code)
 - Plan funds may not be available for distribution outside of the plan

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

11

Roth IRA (Parent-Owned)

- Distributions
 - Qualified
 - Parent typically 59 ½ and has had any Roth IRA for 5 years
 - All distributions are tax- and penalty-free
 - Non-qualified
 - Contributions can be distributed tax- and penalty-free at any time
 - Conversions can be distributed tax- and penalty-free at any time (for higher education expenses)
 - Earnings generally subject to income tax but penalty-free (for higher education expenses)

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

12

Roth IRA (Parent-Owned)

- FAFSA Impact
 - Not counted as an asset
 - Taxable and tax-free distributions counted as income
 - Wait until junior year to distribute?

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

13

Roth IRA (Parent-Owned)

- Student loans repaid by future Roth IRA distributions
 - More time to reach “qualified distribution status”
 - More time for the Roth IRA to compound
 - “Skin in the game” for the student?
 - Easily repositioned towards other goals if not needed for college
 - Child doesn’t go to college
 - Child gets a scholarship

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

14

UTMA Account

- Contributions
 - No limit
 - Contributions in excess of annual exclusion amount reduce lifetime estate/gift tax exemption and/or trigger gift tax
- No special tax treatment
 - But long-term capital gains and qualified dividends are eligible for reduced tax rate
 - Up to $2,700 (in 2025) of long-term capital gains / qualified dividends are tax-free before kiddie tax applies
 - "Step-up" investment basis regularly?

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

15

UTMA Account

- FAFSA Impact
 - Viewed as student's asset (20% rate)
 - Interest, dividends and capital gains count as income

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

16

529 Basics

- Tax-favored account intended primarily to be used for higher education expenses
- Two flavors of 529 plans:
 - College Savings plans
 - Prepaid Tuition plans

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

17

529 Basics

Contributions

- No federal deduction or other tax benefit
- MAY be eligible for a state tax benefit

State rules vary WIDELY

- Some states don't offer any income tax benefit
- Some offer a tax deduction for contributions up to a specified amount for contributions made to a state-sponsored 529 plan
- Some offer a tax deduction for contributions up to a specified amount for contributions made to any 529 plan
- Some states allow "excess contributions" to be carried forward for a specified number of years
- Some states allow "excess contributions" to be carried forward indefinitely
- Some states offer a deduction for the full amount of all contributions to a state-sponsored 529 plan
- Some states offer a greater potential benefit to married couples filing a joint return than to single filers
- Some states offer the same potential benefit to married couples filing a joint return and to single filers
- Some states limit the maximum tax benefit allowed per beneficiary
- Some states limit the maximum tax benefit allowed per contributor
- Some states only allow 529 plan account owners to receive a tax benefit for contributions made to the account
- Some states only allow any contributor to receive a tax benefit for a contribution made to a 529 plan account, regardless of whether they are the owner of the account
- Some states have different rules for taxpayers of different ages
- Some states offer a tax credit for a percentage of contributions, up to a specified amount, for contributions made to a state-sponsored 529 plan
- Some states don't have an income tax

18

529 Basics: Income Tax Treatment

Earnings

- Grow tax deferred at federal and state level

Distributions (pro-rata)

- Qualified Withdrawals
 - Tax-free at federal level
 - Typically tax-free at state level
 - Some states, such as Alabama, will include (qualified) distributions from 529 plans of other states in taxpayer's state income
- Non-Qualified Withdrawals
 - Subject to income tax and a 10% penalty at federal level
 - Subject to income tax, potentially a penalty, and potentially a recapture of previously claimed deductions and/or credits at state level

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

19

529 Basics: Income Tax Treatment

The 10% penalty for non-qualified distributions is waived if the beneficiary:

- Dies
- Becomes disabled
- Receives a tax-free scholarship (up to applicable amount)
- Receives veterans' education assistance (up to applicable amount)
- Receives educational assistance through an employer (up to applicable amount)
- Attends a U.S. Military Academy (up to costs of "advanced education")
- There are qualified expenses, but they are used towards an education credit instead of for the 529 plan (up to applicable amount)

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

20

529 Basics: Income Tax Treatment

Qualified Higher Education Expenses:

- Tuition
- Fees
- Books
- Materials
- Computers, related equipment, software, and internet access
- Room and board (enrolled at least ½ time)
- Fees, books, supplies, and equipment for registered apprenticeship programs
- Special needs costs connected to enrollment
- and/or attendance
- Costs* for K-12 public, private, or religious school
 - Up to $10,000 per year through 2025, then increasing to $20,000 beginning 2026*
- Payments of principal or interest of qualified education loans
 - Up to $10,000 per lifetime
 - May also be used for debt of siblings ($10,000 limit applies per person, not per account)
- Expenses for qualified postsecondary programs*
 - Credentials (e.g., CFP®, TPCP®)

 @CPAPlanner

21

529 Basics: Income Tax Treatment

Question: What happens when an expense is not qualified at the state level?

Answer: It depends...

- The earnings portion of the non-qualified distribution will be subject to state income tax
- In many states, to the extent a tax deduction/credit was received for a contribution, the principal portion of a non-qualified distribution will also be subject to state income tax
- A few states have an additional wrinkle
 - California has a 2.5% penalty on non-qualified distributions
 - Alabama adds 10% of a non-qualified distribution as income for state income tax purposes

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

 @CPAPlanner

22

529 Basics: Timing Requirement

- Federal: Amount of time money is in the account generally doesn't matter (no federal tax benefit upon contribution!)
 - Exception for 529-to-Roth Rollovers (covered later)
- State: Generally, no requirement to leave money in account for any period of time
 - Exception #1 – Holding period states: Montana (one year from account opening) and Wisconsin (365 days after a contribution, "FIFO style")
 - Exception #2 – Net contribution states: Michigan and Minnesota

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

23

529 BASICS: NOT QUALIFIED EXPENSES

- NOT Qualified higher education expenses
 - Travel costs to and from campus
 - Health insurance (even if provided by the school)
 - Extracurricular activities
 - Fraternity/sorority parties

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

24

529 Basics: Parties to the Account

- Beneficiary: Individual designated to be the beneficial recipient of amounts paid from the account
 - Must be a U.S. individual
 - No power to compel distributions
 - No power to control investments of the account
- Owner: Oversees the account and maintains all relevant controls over the account
 - Can affect distributions
 - Can make investment decisions
 - Can change the beneficiary
 - Can change the owner

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

25

529 Basics: Contribution Limits

- No contribution limits!
- “Just” maximum account balances when new contributions are no longer allowed
 - Lowest maximum = Georgia and Mississippi @ $235,000
 - Highest maximum = New Hampshire @ $621,411
 - Typical maximum ~ $500,000
- Maximums tied to expected cost of a beneficiary’s higher education (in theory at least!)
- Accounts can grow infinitely large via earnings

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

26

529 Basics: Gift Tax Consequences Of Contributions

- Contributions are considered completed gifts to the beneficiary
- Eligible for the annual gift tax exclusion
- Five-year gift tax averaging ('super-funding')
 - Applies when aggregate contributions exceed annual gift tax exclusion
 - Allows a single contribution to be treated as though it was made over five years
 - Taxpayer must elect this treatment
 - Contribution is included ratably in each year
 - All-or-nothing decision
 - Requires the filing of a gift tax return (Form 709) in each of the five years
- Gifts in excess of the annual exclusion limit (after application of five-year gift tax averaging) will 'eat' into the donor's lifetime exclusion amount

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

27

529 Basics: Other Rules

- Investment changes may only be made 2x per year at a maximum
 - Automatic changes don't count
 - Age-based shifts in allocation
 - Rebalancing
 - Can generally elect to change allocation of future contributions at any time
- No limit to the number of accounts an individual can have (either as owner or as beneficiary)
- Only one beneficiary allowed per account

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

28

529 Basics: Other Rules

- Only one change in 529 plan accounts (rollover) per year (365 days)
 - Rollovers to another plan typically result in recapture of previous tax benefits
- No requirement to distribute funds
- Beneficiary may be changed to an eligible family member without any income tax consequences
- Owner may be changed

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

29

Changing 529 Plan Beneficiaries

- May be changed to eligible family member or trust without resulting in a distribution
- Eligible family members
 - Spouse
 - Child, or the spouse of such child
 - Brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or the spouse of any such person
 - Mother, father, the ancestor of either, or the spouse of any such person
 - Stepfather, stepmother, or the spouse of either such person
 - Nephew, niece, or the spouse of either such person
 - Aunt, uncle, or the spouse of either such person
 - Son-in-law, daughter-in-law, father-in-law, mother-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, or the spouse of any such person
 - First cousin

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

30

Changing 529 Plan Beneficiaries

- No limit on number of times a beneficiary may be changed

Mechanics:

- Many plans allow changes to a beneficiary to be made online
- Other plans require forms be mailed or faxed in

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

31

Gift Tax Consequences Of Changing Beneficiaries

- Contributions are completed gifts
 - Which means they belong to the beneficiary, right?
- Only the owner has the power to change beneficiaries
- These don't jive!

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

32

Gift Tax Consequences Of Changing Beneficiaries

- No gift tax consequences when changing the beneficiary of the plan to an eligible family member of the same generation
- Changing the beneficiary to a member of the family one generation or more lower than the original beneficiary IS considered a taxable gift

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

33

Whose gift is it
anyway?

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

34

Gift Tax Consequences Of Changing Beneficiaries

- No definitive answer
- Proposed regulations from 1998(I) probably give us the best glimpse into the IRS's thinking...

"A transfer which occurs by reason of a change in the designated beneficiary, or a rollover of credits or account balances from the account of one beneficiary to the account of another beneficiary, will be treated as a taxable gift by the old beneficiary to the new beneficiary if the new beneficiary is assigned to a lower generation than the old beneficiary, as defined in section 2651, regardless of whether the new beneficiary is a member of the family of the old beneficiary." [Emphasis added]

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

 @CPAPlanner

35

Gst Tax Consequences Of Changing Beneficiaries

- No GST if amounts are transferred to a member of the same family who is one or fewer generations younger than the current beneficiary
- GST tax applicable when amounts are transferred to a member of the same family who is two or more generations younger than the current beneficiary

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

 @CPAPlanner

36

Changing 529 Plan Owners

Remember: 529 plan owners are not the owners of the asset in the traditional sense

- Ownership may generally be changed
 - A small number of states limit changes in ownership to situations where the existing owner becomes incapacitated or dies
- Ownership may generally be transferred to anyone
 - Does not have to be an “eligible family member”

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

37

And now, a brief summary of the cumulative IRS guidance on the tax consequences of changing 529 plan owners...

38

[This page is intentionally left blank]

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

39

(Likely) Tax Consequences Of Changing Owners

Income Tax

- Practically, most plans view a(n allowed) change in ownership as a non-reportable event
 - Widely accepted that the IRS will not challenge such transactions

Transfer Taxes

- Generally accepted that there are no transfer taxes applicable upon a change of ownership
 - Recall Proposed Regulations view transfer taxes through the lens of the beneficiary

Picking The 'Best' 529 Plan

- Does the client live in a state with no income tax?
- Does your client live in a state without any tax break for contributions to a 529 plan?
- Does your client live in a state that offers a state tax benefit for a contribution made to any state's 529 plan?
- Does your client plan to use the 529 plan funds for an expense that is treated as a Qualified Higher Education Expense in their state?

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

41

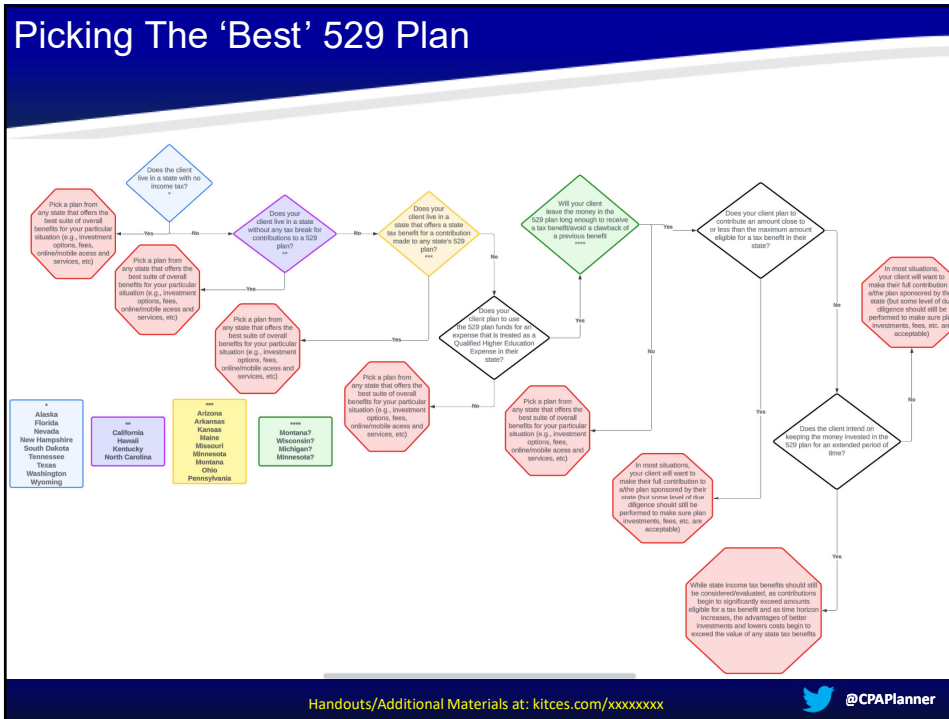

Picking The 'Best' 529 Plan

- Will your client leave the money in the 529 plan long enough to receive a tax benefit/avoid a clawback of a previous benefit?
- Does your client plan to contribute an amount close to or less than the maximum amount eligible for a tax benefit in their state?
- Does the client intend on keeping the money invested in the 529 plan for an extended period of time?

The “Family Dynasty 529 Plan”

- The intentional ‘overfunding’ of one or more 529 plan accounts that, between contributions and earnings, can be used to pay for many generations of family members’ future education expenses
- Can be created with periodic contributions or a lump sum
- Periodic (partial) transfers made to family members’ 529 plan accounts so that tax-free distributions can be made to cover their higher education costs

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

 @CPAPlanner

48

Dynasty 529 Plan Example: Periodic Contributions

- Greg and Mandy, each 55 years old
- Married and have two children
- Financially secure, children's education already 'covered', and value education
- Contributions made for 35 years

Assumptions

- Annual exclusion amount inflated at 3% annually
- Annual tuition of $30,000 inflated at 5% annually
- 529 plan net investment returns of 7% annually

- Married and have two children
- Financially secure, children's education already "covered", and value education
- Single cumulative contribution to 529 plans of $1MM

Assumptions

- Annual tuition of $30,000 inflated at 5% annually
- 529 plan net investment returns of 7% annually

53

Dynasty 529 Plan: Some Key Considerations

- Generally makes sense to make the contributions to the youngest generation
- Consider contributing to multiple eligible family members and later combining accounts to minimize taxable gifts
 - Be mindful of step transactions
- Plans with higher maximum limits are preferable
- Plans with longer maximum account “lifespans” are preferable
- Place more weight on the investment options and fees than any state tax benefits
- Consider the plans rules and policies regarding a change in owner

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

@CPAPlanner

54

Dynasty 529 Plan: What Could Go Wrong?

- The rules could change
 - Though, if anything, Congress has trended towards making 529 plans more flexible
- Higher education could be made available at no cost
 - Though it's hard to imagine a scenario where private and/or graduate school would be made available at no cost
- It can be tough to enforce
 - But there is a potential solution!

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

55

Trust-owned 529 Plans

- Potential benefits include:
 - Ensure that funds in the 529 are actually used for education
 - Trustee is a fiduciary bound to act by terms of the trust
 - Allowing grantors to maximize annual exclusion gifts without the need to provide Crummey powers
 - Pass unused funds to other beneficiaries without transfer tax implications
- For trust-owned 529 plans, the trustee is the account owner
- Trust-owned plan may receive contributions from the:
 - Trust creator
 - The trust itself
 - Any other individual

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

56

TRUST-OWNED 529 PLANS

- When picking the 'best' 529 plan, the trustee should consider what is best for the trust beneficiaries, and not the person(s) making 529 plan contributions
- Specific authorization of 529 plan-related duties for the trustee is preferable, such as the authorization to:
 - Choose the 529 plan they deem is most appropriate
 - Establish and invest in a 529 plan
 - Change or modify a 529 plan's investment selection
 - Receive a plan as a successor owner
 - Designate beneficiaries (typically limited to current beneficiaries)
 - Make distributions to beneficiaries
 - Rollover funds to a new 529 plan, or to a Roth IRA owned by the 529 plan beneficiary

Please see disclosures at the end of this presentation.

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

57

529 Plan To Roth Transfers

- Introduced by SECURE Act 2.0
- First effective 2024
- Allows 529 plan funds to be moved directly to a Roth IRA
- The beneficiary of the 529 plan and the owner of the Roth IRA must be the same person

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

58

529 Plan To Roth Transfers

- Roth IRA income limitations do not apply
- Contributions do require 'compensation'
 - Earned income (most common)
 - Taxable alimony
 - Non-taxable combat pay
- 'Marination' periods
 - Account level: 15 years
 - Contributions (and earnings thereupon): five years

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

 @CPAPlanner

59

529 Plan To Roth Transfers

- Maximum annual transfer: 'Regular' IRA contribution limit for the year
- 'Coordinated' with 'regular' Traditional IRA/Roth IRA contribution limit
 - 'Regular' contributions will reduce available 'space' for 529-to-Roth transfers
- Maximum lifetime limit: $35,000
- Limit applies per beneficiary
 - NOT indexed for inflation
- But there could be some challenges at the state level
 - Will it be a Qualified Distribution for state income tax purposes?
 - Could it result in the recapture of a previously allowed tax benefit?

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

 @CPAPlanner

60

529 Plan To Roth Transfers: Open Questions

- What happens when you change the beneficiary of a 529 plan account?
- What happens if you transfer a portion of a 529 plan to a new beneficiary?
- What happens if you roll over the account to another 529 plan for the same beneficiary?

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

61

The 'Sweet 16 Roth' Plan

- Most newborns do not have 'compensation', so they cannot make IRA/Roth IRA contributions
- There is no compensation requirement to contribute to a 529 plan
- Contribute to the 529 plan at birth and by the time the child is 16, the 15-year Rule will have been met
 - Provided that they have compensation (e.g., summer job, work in the family business), 529 plan money can begin to be 'leaked' over to the Roth IRA

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

62

The 'Sweet 16 Roth' Plan Example

- Initial 529 plan contribution at birth of $11,000
- Annual transfers from the 529 plan to a Roth IRA beginning at age 16
 - Maximum estimated IRA contribution limit at time

Assumptions

- IRA contribution limit inflated at 3% annually
- 529 plan and Roth investments grow at 7% annually

For illustrative purposes only.

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

63

The 'Sweet 16 Roth' Plan Example

- 529 plan is roughly depleted by child's 20th birthday
- Roth IRA is worth roughly $1MM at child's age 65
- More than $2.5MM at child's age 80

For illustrative purposes only.

Handouts/Additional Materials at: kitces.com/xxxxxxx

64

A 'Better Back-door Roth'?

- Same general principle as the Sweet 16, but for a high-income individual's own retirement
- Primary benefit: 'Regular' Back-Door Roth IRAs are funded entirely with after-tax money
 - Better Back-Door Roth would be funded with after-tax contributions and pre-tax earnings
- Potential challenge: Compensation will be needed in the year the transfers are made

529 Basics: Contribution Limits

529 TO 529A (ABLE ACCOUNT) ROLLOVER

- Limited to annual ABLE contribution limit
- Currently set to expire at the end of 2025 (when TCJA changes expire)
- ABLE accounts have much more flexible qualifying expenses

Please see disclosures at the end of this presentation.

How To (Legally) Circumvent Certain Limitations

- Problem: I “want” to superfund a 529 plan in excess of the five-year gift tax-averaging maximum, but I don’t want to use any of my lifetime exclusion
- Solution: Superfund multiple 529 plan accounts for different beneficiaries who are related (are an eligible family member) of the actual intended recipient
 - Later, transfer the funds to the intended recipient

For illustrative purposes only.

How To (Legally) Circumvent Certain Limitations

- Problem: I “need” to make an investment change, but this would be my third within a one-year window
- Solution: Change the beneficiary of the account to another eligible family member and submit a new investment allocation for that account
 - Can always transfer back to the original beneficiary at a later date

For illustrative purposes only.

How To (Legally) Circumvent Certain Limitations

- Problem: I “need” to change my 529 plan account again, but this would be my second change within a one-year window
- Solution: Change the beneficiary of the account at the same time you change plans
 - Can always transfer back to the original beneficiary at a later date

For illustrative purposes only.
